A stage-robbler in Texas, named John Cantrell, has been sentenced to ninety-nine years' imprisonment.

Senator Ryland, of Grant county, offered a resolution in the Senate on Tuesday, expressing the gratification of the people of this State at the course of the Wisconsin delegation in Congress on the financial question. The resolution condemns all attempts to retire the greenbacks at this time. This resolution should be adopted.

A Democrat in the State Senate has been conscience stricken. It is Senator Anderson, of Dane county. He offered a resolution on Tuesday, to the effect that the people of this State are opposed to transferring counting in a President. To be sure they are, and so are the American people generally and hence Tilden was counted out.

The "Medical Bill," which is to make a sort of a High Court of the State Medical Society, has been introduced in the Assembly. Every physician and surgeon in Wisconsin in good standing, should "sit down" on that bill. As it now reads, it is an imposition and a fraud, and should receive no support from honorable physicians. Doubtless a medical bill is needed, but the one introduced is not the kind.

When a Republican candidate is mentioned for the Presidency, a good many eyes are turned toward Hon. E. B. Washburne. He will make a strong candidate in every part of the Union. He is one of our ablest public men, and a statesman with a purer record does not live in this country. He would be the hardest man for the Democrats to fight that could be found anywhere. He is above reproach, and no dart of malice can ever strike him.

Among the deaths of prominent persons in Europe yesterday, were those of Jules Favre, the eminent French statesman and writer, and Thomas Landseer, the celebrated engraver, and a brother of the late Sir Edwin Landseer, the greatest painter of modern times. Favre had been in public life for nearly fifty years, and took a prominent part in all the reform movements in that country. He was a man of great power and vast influence. Thomas Landseer was one of the finest engravers of the present century, and made a name which will endure in the history of European art.

Garcelon's farewell address to the Democrats of Maine: "I attempted to cheat 37 Republican members of the Legislature out of their seats and I am proud that I made the effort, but am sorry I failed. I am a true Democrat, and point with pride to my record. I will never go back on the customs and principles of the Democratic party, and when I think of the noble record of Tweed, Tilden, and Cronin, shining lights to Democratic feet, I feel like emulating their example, and contemplate making stealing and bribery a profession.
I think I would like the business, and I never knew I was so well qualified for that work until I was elected Governor and Tilden suggested I had better take a few lessons. I would have succeeded better had I not attempted to steal too much. I now retire to seclusion, and quitclaim all my right to the nomination for Vice President to Pillsbury."

BOOK COUNTY ASSEMBLYMAN.
Mr. Frank S. Lawrence, member of the Assembly from the Janesville district, enjoys the distinction of being placed upon three committees—all of them important ones, namely: The Committee on Railroads, on Insurance, Banks and Banking, and on the Assessment and Collection of Taxes. But he is in the possession of such business experience and has killed official positions in which he has been well schooled in the subjects which will come before these committees for deliberation; has selection for these important trusts was a most proper one.

The above is from the State Journal, and is well deserved by Mr. Lawrence. Mr.
Speaker Arnold has given Rock county some prominent places on the Committees, and this is a recognition which the members and the county fully merit. Mr.
R. J. Burdge is a member of the Judiciary Committee, and is Chairman of the Committee on State Lands. On both of these Committees Mr. Burdge will do good service.
He is a man of solid character, of varied learning, well read in law, and is in all respects a practical man. He is an excellent type of strong manhood, and will fill with credit any position he is placed in.

Dr. Lord, from the Third District, is on two Committees—Education, and Medical Societies. The Doctor will take rank among the most active men in the Assembly. He has a comprehensive knowledge of State affairs, and so far as he is concerned, will not permit reckless and unwise legislation. During the session he will take an active part in the movement to restore capital punishment, and in this he has the support of a very large majority of people in Rock county. We understand he is well equipped for the contest, and will present some important documents to sustain him in his position.

Senator Richardson is again given a very important Chairmanship—that of the Joint Committee on Charitable and Penal Institutions. He is also on the Joint Committee on Printing. There is no man in the Senate better qualified for Chairman of the first Committee than Senator Richardson. In that position he is the peer of any man in the State. If we are not deceived, a question regarding a certain "unwarrantable proceeding" will come before his Committee during the session, and his constituents who do not believe in expending public money without the authority of law, will not be disappointed in the course Senator Richardson will take. When that question is properly before his Committee, the people will find that he is the right man in the right place.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 21.—The Republican Legislature is working quietly. The Fusionists are undecided whether to appeal to the Supreme Court or implore Congress to help them.

A blinding snow prevails here to-day.

WASHINGTON.

Special to the Gazette.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The Banking Committee voted 6 to 3 against postponing financial legislation.

The Georgetown flour mills burned this morning. Loss $50,000. Insurance $60,- 000.

APPALLING CALAMITY.

Special to the Gazette.
LONDON, Jan. 21.—A coal gas explosion took place this morning in the Lyceum Colliery, near New Castle, in which one hundred miners perished. There are heart-rending scenes among the friends of the lost ones. There is no hope to rescue them, and no effort has yet been made.

Another gas explosion occurred in the Fair Lady mine, at Hainley, and eighty miners are entombed. There are hopes that some will be rescued.

MAINE QUIET.

AUGUSTA, Maine, Jan. 20.—To-day has been the most quiet of any since the first meeting of the Legislature, and most of these, not having special business here, have returned to their homes fully impressed with the idea that the great question is virtually over, though as yet not actually finally settled. [Notwithstanding the loud talk and bluster of the Fusionists, it is fast coming to be believed that even their apparent opposition to the legally constituted Governor will be but of brief duration, and their action to-day tends to strengthen that belief. In accordance with the adjustment of the open session of yesterday, the Pillsbury-Garcelon-Lansom-Smith Legislature met at 10 o'clock in Union Hall, in which the House of representatives was called to order by the Speaker, the number of members present, however, being much smaller than at any previous session. The forenoon was spent in debate as to the course to be pursued, and a committee was appointed to prepare some plan of action and to report this afternoon, a recess being taken until 4 o'clock. The action of the Senate was of a similar character to that of the House. The appearance of that august and dignified body, crammed up in a little ante-room so limited in its dimensions that the honorable Senators were obliged to sit with legs interlocked, like those of a passenger in a stage-coach, was anything but edifying or awe-inspiring. Indeed, the whole proceedings were so funeral in appearance as to excite only mirth and ridicule.

CENSUS SUPERVISORS.

Congressman Pound the Maddest Man in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Dissatisfaction over the appointment of supervisors of census increases as the list is examined, and members of Congress complain that they have been trifled with in a manner that arouses great indignation. Several of them state that they originally asked no favors in this regard, but merely referred the applications for appointment from their districts to the President, without comment, but were afterwards sent for by the President and Superintendent of the Census, and asked to designate the men for appointment, being told that their selection would be accepted and the men they designated appointed. At least seven Congressmen went through this little transaction, and notified their friends of the result. One Congressman goes so far as to charge that President Hayes and General Walker insisted upon his naming a man, and he several times declined to do so, because of certain political complications in his district, and after having given him positive assurances that his selection would

IN THE ASSEMBLY.
MADISON, Jan. 20.—In the Assembly this morning, bills were introduced to establish free libraries; repealing the tramp law of 1879; authorizing notaries public to solemn-ize marriage ceremonies; to regulate the practice of surgery and medicine in Wisconsin; providing for individual liability of stockholders in banks and banking institutions; authorizing town supervisors to appoint overseers of highways; permitting any county board to exempt the County from the operation of the dog tax law; for improvement of method in collecting statistics. The memorial to Congress for improvement in Port Washington Harbor, was concurred in.
Adjourned.

WHEAT PROSPECTS.

New York, Jan. 20.—The Commercial Bulletin, to-day, reviewing the wheat prospect, says: With stocks and alfalfa, Great Britain has $4,000,000 bushels more wheat than a year ago. The visible supply of wheat in the United States and Canada, on the 10th inst., was 30,- 309,000 bushels, against 15,583,000 at the same period of 1879. England has yet to draw from us $4,000,000 bushels of wheat in stock and alfalfa than a year ago, and 11,721,000 bushels more than was then immediately available in our market. To this extent, England is in a better position than a year ago, but her wants from this time until the next harvest will be much larger than in 1878, and as her dependence must be mainly on the United States, the question arises, what is our position for supplying her wants.

NEW YORK.

New York, Jan. 20.—The Tribune has canvassed the Senators and Assemblymen at Albany on their preference for a Republican Presidential nomination. The result is as follows as told by the editor: Inasmuch as the present Legislature was largely elected in accordance with the controlling political management of the State, it was expected that it would be overwhelmingly for Grant, and these talks became, therefore, of special interest.
Of Senators, eleven, or less than one-half, announced themselves for Grant, while the same number are non-committal. Of the Assemblymen, thirty-five declare themselves for Grant, and thirteen for Blaine; there are many "scattering" as well as many non-committal. The number of those who favor other candidates than Grant or withhold their preference is greater than the number of Grant men.

THE WOOL INTEREST.

Wisconsin Sheep-Breeders and Wool-Growers.

WHITEWATER, Jan. 20.—The State Association of Sheep-breeders and Woolgrowers is in session at this place, and a large number of visitors from other parts of Wisconsin and also from Illinois are in attendance. The fine flocks of pure-blood Merino sheep in this vicinity have been carefully inspected this afternoon. A large meeting is in session this evening, and the reports of committees on various subjects of interest, especially on the more perfect rules of registration, are being considered.

MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 20.—The Legislature balloted at noon to-day for United States Senator with the following result: Senate—Ethel Barksdale, 14; Otto Singleton, 10; J. Z. George, 11; B. K. Bruce, 1; T. W. Harris, 1.

House—Barksdale, 34; Singleton, 29;
General A. M. West, 15; George, 25; Bruce, 3; absent and not voting, 4.
The Republicans voted for Bruce, and the Greenbackers for West.
No choice.

TO HANG.

PONTIAC, Ill., Jan. 20.—De Boer, the murderer of Miss Ella Martin, of Minonk, was sentenced to-day by Judge Blades to be hung on the 17th of next March.
De Boer did not show any signs of emotion when sentence was pronounced upon him.
The sentence seemed to give general satisfaction among the people.

WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY.

MADISON, Jan. 20.—The Regents of the University held their semi-annual meeting to-day, and accepted the new assembly-hall and approved $30,000 of Bentley's account. They also voted to purchase the residence of ex-Governor Dewey for a residence for President Bascom. A new Professorship was created (that of Agriculture), but they did not fill the position.
After making a general and thorough inspection of the whole University, they took a recess till to-morrow.

Catarrhal
POISON!

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh explains the following important facts:

1. That Catarrhal Poison becomes a potentially infectious, at first local, and finally constitutional.
2. That, being Constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.
3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and absorbed into the blood, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.
4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mu-cosal membrane and causes Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea, Bronchitis, Leucor-rhea, and Gonorrhea.
5. That smoke, Douches, Inhalations, and Insoluble Salts, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.
6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an immediate affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr.
Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony:

Disclosures Made by an Excavation

Under a Cathedral.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

The Pacific mail steamship South Carolina, which leaves this port to-day for Panama, will carry materials for the construction of a new seminary there. This seminary is connected with a cathedral which has a history. Its numerous sufferings from fire alone make it an object of more than ordinary interest. The cathedral was built in the town of Panama in 1815, the place then numbering about one hundred and fifty people. At its head was Pedro de Ayala. The site upon which the cathedral was erected, and around which was the town, was nearly three miles from the present city. That town was sacked and burned down by the bu-ccanero Morgan in 1670. After that another city was reared up, where the town now is, and that stood till 1707, when it was destroyed by fire. Again in 1864, 1870 and 1874 there have been fires more or less destructive. With the last fire which occurred in 1878, the seminary was again burned down, and for its re-building a San Francisco architect, J. Remer, has been employed, who was engaged by Bishop Paul, of Panama. The plans as drawn by Mr. Remer show a building of a front of twenty-six feet and a depth of ninety-eight feet, of the modern American style front ornamentation. The building is three stories high, with iron doors, blinds and cornices, and a tiled roof. Its general appearance is something of the Mission street Opera house style. The old seminary, which is a part of the cathedral, stands about in the center of the town, and on the Plaza de Catedral, the stone house being on the opposite side, while around the plaza are the finest private residences. Telesoro Paulo, the bishop, is taking much interest in the institution, which is designed for the education of boys for the priesthood, and in one part to educate children free of charge. As a protection against fire, in addition to iron work, which will be used entirely new building material in Panama, the house will be supplied with an artesian well, windmill and tank. At the excavation attending the rebuilding of the seminary a mystery of seventy years was partially solved. As near as can be learned from the architect of the church, and from the memory of one or two old inhabitants, something over eighty years, a woman who had been saved from a shipwreck, was taken into Panama. Two weeks after she gave birth to a male child. Being a stranger, and not understanding the language, nothing was ever learned regarding her history, but when her boy was a few weeks old she died, leaving him to the tender mercies of strangers, and she was buried in the churchyard at Panama. The boy grew up to be a bright, handsome, dexterous youth, taken care of by no one in particular, but like the little waif that he was, he was blown from one corner into another, until the priests of the seminary took him in charge and resolved to bring him up for education. He was instructed by priests, but particular pains were given by him to his musical education, his voice being cultivated to the utmost. At the age of twenty-two, while in the choir, he met the Spanish Jesuit, Arpa, a beautiful dark-eyed girl. Utterly unimpressed by the future of the reverend father he fell desperately in love with her, and reciprocated. After a while the secret of their unbridled love was betrayed, and they suddenly disappeared. Their fate until now was a mystery. In the recent exploration beneath the altar that had in former times been used by the priests, a small chest was discovered. In this were found two perfect skeletons, with arms extended. A prayer book, in the last stages of decay, lay beside the bones, and an ivory crucifix. On the front leaf of the book was written, "Jesuit Arpa, 1817." Whether upon the discovery of their guilt a realization of their sin drove them to make atonement in self-destruction, or whether they sought to perpetuate in death the union that would be denied in life, or whether they were thrust down by a malignant power, by aerial and unknown judges, will never be known. It is only certain, from the position of the skeletons, that they died locked to each other's embrace.

A WORD TO THOSE WHO USE POROUS PLASTERS. It is a universally acknowledged fact that

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under the name of Capcine or Capcino. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at any price it is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingredients which make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases. All genuine BEN-

SON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS have the word CAPCINE cut in them. SEABURY & JOHN-
